Roy Rivers

Roy Rivers is a singer/songwriter whose music and live concerts are enjoyed by people of all ages. He's written over 200 songs, most of which have a story behind them that he occasionally shares with his audiences. He performs equally well as a solo-acoustic artist as he does when touring with a band. He is very well known for his John Denver tribute (not to be confused with an impersonation) and has gained a international fan base due to his vocal similarities to John. Though several artist inspired him he connected at a very young age to John's music and message as it encompassed how he himself felt about life and the world around him.

Roy has an incredible connection to his fans, and audiences. Concert goers the world round can attest to the spirit and energy Roy brings to the stage. Whether it's a small audience or in the thousands it's the same to Roy. Listening to him feels very personal.

"The songs I write and sing are what gives voice to the feelings I experience in living. I hope their words can find a place to resonate with everyone who listens. I hope they make you want to sing along, but even more I hope they help us to have a little more hope, tolerance, understanding and love for each other. If my music can do even a little of that, then I feel like I'm doing what I'm supposed to be doing."

Roy's toured Europe, had 2 chart toppers over there, sold out Red Rocks twice along with other great adventures and hopes to have many more. All this from a literal country boy who purchased his first guitar at age 16 with money he made from mowing lawns. He considers himself a very lucky man.
